VIOLENT FIGHTING IN BERLIN AS TROOPS ARE WITHDRAWN

Troops Loyal to the Ebert Government Take Their Place to Maintain Order

An Attempt to Attack Carranza May be Kept as President Foreign Commissions in Hotel Adlon Was Frustrated

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Berlin, March 18.—(Night)—Violent fighting between crowds of workers and Von Kapp soldiers was reported today.

Several persons were killed and many wounded in the vicinity of Hotel Adlon this afternoon as the Ehrhardt marine brigade, the backbone of the revolutionary military power evacuated Wilhelm Strasse.

Order was restored by safety police supporting the Ebert government, who marched down the historic street shortly after 4 P. M.

As the marine brigade retreated a mob in Unter den Linden hooted and there was some shooting.

Safety police who followed the marines were forced to shoot down the street to clear a passage. As the safety police went down the street a second group of marines attacked them for three or four minutes. The shooting was general.

The marines appeared before the Hotel Adlon and fired on the crowd. Firing was also heard in the vicinity of the Brandenburg gate.

The only attempt against the lives of foreigners came early this afternoon when a mob attempted to rush the Hotel Adlon, headquarters of various foreign missions. The mob was repulsed by the guards. Baltic troops, which had been supporting Von Kapp, left the city this morning. As they passed through Charlottenburg, a suburb, they fired shots into a meeting of independent socialists. Forty persons were reported to have been killed.

The Baltic troops, members of the old iron brigade of General Von der Goltz, were reported to have marched on to Spandau where they clashed with radical workmen. The troops said the radicals killed and wounded several. Sixteen persons were reported killed in an undetermined explosion in the Charlottenburg electrical works. The safety police and other loyal Ebert troops were busy clearing the city tonight, removing barbed wire entanglements and barricades erected by insurgents. President Ebert, it was said, will not return to the city until after the meeting of the national assembly at Stuttgart. He will probably reach Berlin late Friday.

Officials of the Ebert government summoned the correspondents to a conference at 2 P. M. and informed them that all the troops which had supported the insurrection had been ordered out by tonight. Loyal troops will assume all guard work simultaneously.

A strong demand has been made by radical workmen for the resignation of Gustav Noske, Ebert's minister of defense, and now in charge of troops here. The radicals have hated Noske ever since his ruthless suppression of Spartacan outbreaks last fall.

Thirty Killed in Berlin

Berlin, March 19.—Thirty persons were killed in this afternoon's fighting between citizens and retiring soldiers of the Von Kapp insurrection, according to official statements by safety police.

The figure applies only to a clash in front of the Hotel Adlon, headquarters of foreign missions here. Fighting took place in many parts of the city.

good—for himself and for Mexico. It is this opportunity, say the president's closest supporters, which explains his eagerness to negotiate a change in power by peaceful, regular methods.

Minimum Wage Law is Held Constitutional

Minnesota Supreme Court so Holds in a Decision Appealed From Goodhue County (By United Press)

St. Paul, March 19.—The supreme court today by reversing a decision of the Goodhue county held valid the scale of minimum wage law for minors and women established by the Minnesota wage commission.

The G. O. Miller Telephone Co., of Red Wing, secured an injunction against the commission's ruling on scale of wages, on the ground that the act was unconstitutional. The commission appealed and Goodhue county court decision was reversed.

Politicians Come to Blows in Convention

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, March 19.—A. A. D. Rahn and Irving A. Caswell, aspirants for the chairmanship of the tenth district republican convention here, today engaged in a fist encounter after the convention was called to order. The engagement grew out of efforts of Hennepin delegates to seat 32 representatives barred by the representation methods inaugurated by Gustav Lindquist, chairman of the republican state central committee. Lindquist provides for only two delegates from Hennepin county. Hennepin republicans claim 32 seats. That part of Hennepin county in the tenth district cast more than fifty per cent of the total vote of the district.

Caswell was designated by Lindquist as chairman of the convention today. Rahn, who has been one of Lindquist's most bitter critics in the primary convention, was slated for the chairmanship by the Hennepin delegation. When he approached the chair an altercation with Caswell led to blows. Delegates separated the pair with difficulty.

Gen. Von Luettwitz Reported Suicide

(United Press)

Paris, March 19.—General Von Luettwitz, military leader of the monarchist counter revolution, has committed suicide, according to the Koener Tageblatt.

Von Luettwitz resigned simultaneously with Dr. Von Kopp, chancellor of the short lived monarchist government who fled from Berlin Wednesday night.

Final Vote on Peace Treaty May Come Today

RATIFICATION PROSPECTS NOT BRIGHT

Eleventh hour statements of the treaty fight by leaders: "I cannot see the 64 votes necessary to ratify," Senator Lodge, leader of the strong reservationists, said.

"More than enough democratic senators are standing firm against the nullifying and destructive Lodge reservations," Senator Hitchcock, leader of the Wilson democrats, said.

Preamble to Treaty Ratification Resolution Amended L. C. MARTIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, March 19.—With all indications pointing to a final vote today on the peace treaty, the senate took up the preamble to the ratifying resolution.

The Lodge amendment was first taken up. It provides that: "Failure on the part of allied and associated powers to make objections" to the senate reservations before the American notice of ratification is deposited "shall be taken as such and final acceptance of such reservations are understood by said powers."

The preamble as adopted last November, requires that at least three allied powers notify this government through diplomatic notes of acceptance of reservations.

Senator Lodge's amendment was adopted without a roll call and with practically no debate.

As soon as Lodge's amendment was adopted, Senator Brandegee called up his amendment to the preamble. It provides that ratification shall not take effect "unless the instrument of ratification shall have been filed within sixty days after the adoption of the resolution of ratification by the senate."

The Brandegee ninety-day amendment was rejected 41 to 42.

Eleventh hour surveys of the situation by leaders of all the various factions convinced them that nothing now could change a single vote. Senator Hitchcock continued to predict some 40 to 42 votes against ratification.

Hitchcock may ask a vote on unqualified ratification and on the reservation supported last session by the democrats and since been accepted by President Wilson.

Agreement to Vote Today Was Delayed by Senator Lenroot—May Delay Until Tomorrow (By United Press)

Washington, March 19.—Senate leaders hoped to vote finally on the peace treaty today.

An attempt to meet an agreement for a vote today failed however because Senator Lenroot, mild reservationist, refused to consent to fixing a definite time.

Senator Lenroot declared "irreconcilables" feeling confident the treaty is sure to be killed, wanted to rush the vote. Lenroot may throw it off until Saturday.

When the senate met today it had before it the resolution of ratification which was perfected last night in a session which lasted until nearly midnight. No more reservations or amendments can now be offered, but a stubborn fight looms on the preamble of the ratifying resolution.

Senator Lodge amended the preamble by inserting a provision that the notice of American ratification must be deposited by the president within sixty days after the senate acts to make ratification effective.

The senate met at 11 A. M., an hour earlier than usual. Long before that time various factional groups of senators met for an eleventh hour conference.

Put Next Move to President If Treaty Is Rejected

Washington, March 19.—A resolution formulated returning the treaty to President Wilson with notice that the senate has been unable to ratify it, will be introduced in the senate immediately after the final treaty vote if that vote shows the treaty was rejected, Senator Lodge decided today.

Senator Lodge said all the republicans, and at least four democrats, would support the resolution.

It would require only a majority vote for adoption.

The purpose of the resolution is to put the next move in the treaty situation up to the president. While waiting for him to act, the senate probably would not take up the Knox reservation, leaders said. If Wilson did not take steps within a reasonable time to bring peace between Germany and the United States, the Knox resolution would then be called up, senators said.

After disposing today of two amendments to the preamble of the ratification resolution, it is expected there will be a long session of speaking made before the final vote. It was not indicated when the vote will occur.

Send Coal Commissions Report to Miners

That a New Agreement Between Operators and Miners May be Drawn Up (By United Press)

Washington, March 19.—President Wilson soon will send to the coal operators and miners the majority and minority reports on the coal commission in order that the two sides in the wage controversy may meet to draw a new agreement, it was said at the White House today following a conference between Secretary Tumulty and Rail Director Hines and Attorney General Palmer.

Republican District Conventions Are Being Held Today

(United Press)

St. Paul, March 19.—Minnesota republicans today were getting down to the real business of naming delegates to their national convention. Eight congressional district conventions were naming sixteen delegates to the national convention and debated whether they should go instructed or with free hands.

St. Paul and Minneapolis, comprising two congressional districts, have already elected four national convention delegates—two of them instructed.

ed to vote for Major General Leonard Wood, and two uninstructed.

District conventions were in session today at Owatonna, Mankato, South St. Paul, St. Cloud, Willmar, Duluth, Fergus Falls and Minneapolis. The tenth congressional district includes a small portion of Minneapolis, but this portion cast more than half of the votes in the whole district. A bitter fight to send thirty-two delegates from Hennepin county who were barred by Lindquist's plan of representation, was scheduled. Tomorrow state conventions are meeting and four delegates at large are to be named.

Five Thousand Soldiers Married Foreign Brides

(United Press)

Washington, March 19.—Members of the American expeditionary forces brought home 3,700 foreign brides of seventeen nationalities up to March 15 last, according to records of the port of embarkation at Hoboken, announced today by the war department.

This number however represents only the brides who were received in Red Cross hostess houses, they being the only cases in which a record of nationalities were kept. It was understood that a total of about five thousand American soldiers married foreign brides.

Twin Cities Have Heavy Snow Fall

Over Six Inches Fell, That Carried Down Wires and Delayed Trains

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 19.—Minnesota was digging itself out of the worst blizzards of the winter today. It was the second storm this week. Over six inches of snow fell in six hours here, bringing the total snow fall this winter within 1 8-10 inches of the previous high record in the Twin Cities. The total snow fall was 70 6-10 inches. In 1888 it was 72 8-10 inches.

The heavy sticky snow last night carried down telephone and telegraph lines and in many cities broke the power and light wires. Much of the Twin Cities was in darkness at intervals during the night. Trains were halted in many places and some were forced to proceed over other lines. Coast trains were hours late.

While less snow fell in Wisconsin, South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana and Wyoming, a terrific gale swept Missouri, Wyoming and Colorado effecting some damage, according to reports today. Four deaths were reported in Colorado and Wyoming.

Street car traffic in the Twin Cities was hampered and extra crews worked all night to keep the tracks open. It was the heaviest snow fall in a single day in the Twin Cities this winter.

Newberry Case Jury's Hands

Because of the Great Amount of Testimony to be Considered a Verdict is Not Expected Until Saturday

J. L. O'SULLIVAN,

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Grand Rapids, Mich., March 19.—The fate of Truman S. Newberry and eighty-four others accused of conspiring to violate the federal election law rested with the jury today. The case was given to the jury by Judge Clarence S. Sessions of the United States district court here shortly after 5 P. M. yesterday.

Many exceptions to the judge's instructions were taken by attorneys for the defense. They objected to the judge's statement that if Newberry had knowledge that the campaign would cost in excess of the amount allowed by law and then entered into the campaign and assisted in its conduct he should be found guilty.

The judge warned the jury not to allow their political views to enter into consideration of the case. He declared that in order to find the defendant guilty the evidence must show that he had guilty knowledge of the alleged conspiracy.

Because of the large amount of testimony to be considered a verdict was not expected until probably late on Saturday.

Senators Nelson and Kellogg Should be Delegates at Large

Minneapolis, March 19.—"The bitter fight between the Burquist-Lindquist faction on one side and the Smith-Carpenter faction on the other, is imperiling the republican success in the state," State Representative Elmer Adams of Fergus Falls, said here today.

Adams suggested that the two United States senators from Minnesota should be delegates at large to the national republican convention by the republican state convention here today.

"Twin City papers were carrying the suggestion with approval today, he said.

"It would give the state great standing if the national convention could name the two senators and it is a gracious thing to do."

Living Costs Going Down

Washington, March 19.—Living costs in February were 6-10 of one per cent less than in January, according to figures made public by the labor department today. The figures are based on reports from retail food dealers in fifty-one cities.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT CLOSES

Clarence Anderson Surprises Fans and Beats Them All—Wins
First Place in Singles

The city bowling tournament is over and was a marked success from every view-point, although the number of entries was not up to expectations. Several bowlers, not understanding the conditions that exist in a short contest of this kind, were under the impression that a certain few would surely win, while this was far from the facts.

Clarence Anderson, while a very good bowler, was not considered, by the majority when it came to picking the prize-winners, and he fooled them all by easily running away with first honors in the singles. It was a very popular victory and no more enthusiasm was ever seen at the L. B. A. than at the local tourney last night when Anderson fought his way into first place with a brilliant 215 for his last game. He started with 211 dropped to 171 and then put in his big game and copped the bacon.

Art White, who held the lead with a fine mark of 581, finished in second place, while Bob Duerr was a close third with 578. Holmstrom, another dark horse, jumped into fourth place with a substantial score of 555 and "Happy" Englund, the only L. B. A. bowler to win money in the singles,
won fifth place with 546.

In the doubles, as predicted, Sasser and Johnson held first place with a score of 1119. While the winning total was by no means heavy, it was plenty high enough to withstand the attack of last night and was an easy winner.

Blake and Alderman won second place with 1021, while I. White and Ziebell got third place with 1029 and Englund and Cook squeezed into fourth place with 1026. This, in itself, shows the uncertainty of bowling, as this same team got 1127, against new pins at Duluth recently.
One never knows the final results of a bowling tournament until the final ball is rolled and that is what makes a tournament of this kind so immensely popular.

Next week it is the plans, at present, to hold a similar tournament open to all bowlers who participated in the one just closed and who did not roll 500 in either event and also to the rest of the city bowlers who did not compete in same. This simply bars the prize winners in the singles, together with Sasser, Cook, Blake Johnson, and a few others,
and it gives the contestants in next week tourney all a chance to win first money. The tournament will be run Thursday and Friday evening of next week.

The final standings are as follows:

March 15, 1920.

To the Brainerd Dispatch and dear friends in Brainerd:

I have often wished some of you were with me in the many little side trips we have taken in the past 18 months to Niagara, to the old Chautauqua Assembly grounds, and several other points noted for picturesqueness or historic associations.

Friday evening I heard Samuel Eliot lecture. He is best known as the son of Charles Eliot, former president of Harvard.

He had been asked to define education. Here is his definition: "Education is the ability to think independently, to imagine greatly and to will nobly."

But the newest thing I can give you is my impression of Sir Oliver Lodge and his manner of handling the subject "Survival."

I was one of five thousand who heard him in Buffalo last evening. While I had an excellent seat secured two weeks ahead of the date, I believe I could have heard him in the third balcony if it was so quiet.

Sir Oliver is more slender than press pictures would suggest. He speaks slowly, calmly and with an earnestness not often seen in the speakers heard heretofore.

I would like to give you a few striking quotations as I have them in my notes:

"Our senses we inherit from animals."

"We all interpret the universe differently than animals."

"Ether is the most substantial reality there is. It had to be discovered. Man did it with his mind. We are dependent on it for light, electricity, magnetism, even gravitation. Yet we can make no experiments upon it."

Sir Oliver has studied ether for twenty or thirty years and says it is still a working hypothesis difficult to assimilate.

Sir Oliver has an odd fashion of stepping around now and then with his hands in his pockets, and then scratching his right ear. You soon become accustomed to this, and eager for more of those deliberate statements so full of ideas upon which to build new ideals.

"How came consciousness associated with the body?"

"Compare a dog present at a concert with yourself present at the same concert. He hears and sees the same as you do as far as the mechanical mechanism."

"The vibrations of air bring to you a tone picture and the more intelligent you are the more detailed the picture from mind to mind."

Then he proceeded to illustrate many ways of indirect communication between minds. "Any instrument will serve if there is a mind at each station, receiving or sending, capable of receiving or sending."

"Is there a direct way of communicating mind to mind?"

He told of experiments conducted forty years ago with thought transference. "It was proven any one could be used as a sending power but very few as recipient power." Distance made no difference, the experiments beginning room to room and finally extending from India to England.

"In the 80's telepathy became a fact of science."

"If telepathy is possible why not communication? It would help to understand inspiration, genius and remove the superstitions of death and apparitions, etc."

Sir Oliver Lodge said in 1889 he felt he had his first communication with the unseen world but "was not convinced, no, not until he had gathered as it were a large bundle of evidence resembling the bundles of fagots" sufficient to bow the back of the hearer.

As yet, proof is open to discussion but as for himself for twenty years he has had the evidence which he did not take the time to announce to the world until 1909.

He went on to show how the Physical Research Society, as a group of individuals, seeking the truth from a scientific viewpoint, had strengthened evidence by elimination of telepathy from the living.

His illustrations were facts from the history of the findings of this body of sober-minded men. The "book tests" are simple but convincing. But Sir Oliver says, "we must have many tests and look upon every side and still withhold judgment."

In contrast to the trivial things as quoted by the book reviewers, Sir Oliver read from a message purporting to be views of the other world from son to mother. I give you one quotation: "I can give but the barest glimpse. Oh, the joy realized in living where the only test is character."

You make this life. You are as you were; however feeble the goodness and truth of your earth life. Nothing stronger in earth life than true prayer. Your attitude of mind is changed by your will. * * * You feel as though you had come home rather than a stranger. You understand yourself. Your whole life unrolls before you as a school—nothing forgotten."

The lecture was closed with this sentence: "We must be honest, patient and follow truth carefully wherever it may lead."

While you might not accept the gospel of Sir Oliver Lodge's lecture for yourself, you could not doubt the sincerity of the man.

Yours sincerely,

LOUISE MCKAY.

THE HOOVER LETTER

The publication of a year-old letter from Mr. Hoover to the president, advising against American participation in various commissions set up under the peace treaty, is promptly disavowed by Mr. Hoover as a "breach of good taste." He adds that the views expressed in this memorandum were "later modified as to the particular of our having a representative on the reparation commission" in order to protect American interests affected by its large economic control over Europe.

This is equivalent to saying that in other respects Mr. Hoover stands by the position he took last April. It may be conceded that it would not have been "good taste" for Mr. Hoover to give out a letter he had sent to the president in his official capacity as member of the American economic group in the peace conference. But as the publication has been accomplished without his knowledge by unnamed but enthusiastic pushers of his presidential candidacy, the question of "good taste" may as well be waived.

The point is that a year ago Mr. Hoover framed a powerful indictment of the policy of American interference in European affairs, and thereby condemned Mr. Wilson's "heart of the treaty," Article X, as well as Mr. Wilson's policy during and since the peace conference.

Mr. Wilson, of course, did not take the proffered advice. He seldom does. He has insisted on an American finger in every European pie. He has imperiously required the ratification of the treaty with dotless "i's" undotted and crossless "t's" uncrossed. He has labeled any and all efforts to Americanize Article X with the laconic legend, "Unacceptable, W. W." He has herded his supporters in the senate into a corral whence there is no egress except an alliance with the "bitter-enders" to kill the treaty.

Mr. Hoover's advice was good. It was supported by a compact and logical argument. It was informed with a far-visioned Americanism. Events have borne out its prophecies, except as to the reparation commission which has custody of American as well as European interests.—Minneapolis Journal.

Dayton Men Are Scout "Daddies"

(By United Press)

Dayton, O., March 19.—Five hundred Dayton men have become rabid fans for the Dayton branch of the Boy Scouts of America through a clever scheme devised by John Haen, Dayton scoutmaster.

Haen has organized the "Old Scouts." The members are business men who are glad to pay $10 a year apiece for membership. They thus become the "daddies" of the Boy Scouts and the money they pay for dues support the scout organization.

Haen first called a small group of influential men together. He submitted his plan which all accepted with enthusiasm. Each sent out a hundred letters to friends, soliciting further memberships. All in all five hundred have responded and more are expected to join.

Each "Old Scout" has on the wall of his office an emblem which says: "I am an 'Old Scout'—are you?"

Time to Buy Eggs for Preserving

Begin now to consider the buying of eggs for preserving in water-glass solution and lime-water, says N. E. Chapman, poultryman with the extension division of the Minnesota college of agriculture. Eggs will not be much, if any, cheaper than now, says Mr. Chapman. Best quality eggs are produced in the spring, which is another reason for putting down a supply now for use in early winter when prices will climb. Printed instructions for preserving will be sent on application to the office of publications at University Farm, St. Paul, Minn., or to your county or home demonstration agent.

CROWDS AT THE LIBRARY BENEFIT TONIGHT-LAST NIGHT

The library board is making a direct appeal to every man, woman and child in Brainerd to attend "Little Women" this afternoon and evening—If you did not attend last evening, by so doing you will greatly benefit yourself as well as the library. You will see an excellent play full of humor and pathos and a very beautiful picture of an ideal home life and incidentally help to purchase much needed books for the library.

Consider that on every open day of the library from seventy-five to two hundred or more books are circulated. These wear out and new ones must replace them. The patrons of the library know just how much we need new books and others should know. The library is a public institution, it belongs to you and me alike, and it's up to us to take care of it.

The proper method is by a just appropriation, but since this has failed (the people) public must be appealed to. Help us to the extent of attending "Little Women" this evening. The larger the attendance, the greater the amount of money received and the more books can be purchased.

Persuade your councilman to double the library appropriations and such appeals will not be necessary.

GOMPERS INDORSES AMERICAN LEGION

Labor President Says He Sees No Conflict Between Two Organizations

Indianapolis, March 19.—Personal endorsement of the American Legion by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is contained in a letter from Mr. Gompers to F. B. Wilkin, secretary of the union labor council of Needles, California, according to an article printed recently in the Needles Nugget, a copy of which has been received here.

The letter, it is stated, was written in answer to a question from Mr. Wilkin.

Mr. Gompers' letter follows:

"The American Federation of Labor has not made any declaration regarding the American Legion, but speaking for myself, I cannot see any reason why former service men, whether members of organized labor or not, should not join the American Legion.

"When I was in New York recently, Mr. Franklin D'Olier, national commander of the American Legion, asked for a conference with me, which, of course, I readily granted, at which we discussed general subject matter of the Legion. He very greatly deprecated that acts and declarations of a few men, members of the Legion, speaking without authority, should be accepted or credited as representing the American Legion and that for which it stands any more than the organized movement should be held responsible for any overt act of any one member. His declaration regarding the attitude of the American Legion toward organized labor was practically the same as the statement which he gave Jan. 7."

The company has a special section of four cars, consisting of their own two Pullmans, own baggage car, for their scenery, and a day coach, where they spend the daylight hours while traveling. This section is attached to a regular train, and only members of the company are allowed the use of it. Two porters and two maids attend to the wants of the company while traveling. On long trips a special dining car will also be attached for the exclusive use of the "Jr. Mimic World" players.

This is the first trip to this locality of this famous organization which has proved the greatest sensation. New York theatrical circles has ever known. Several of the feminine stars in the troupe, including Sonia and Florence Fields, Morley Sisters, Margaret Smith and others, carry their personal maids with them on the trip.

The twenty chorus girls in the troupe are all properly chaperoned, three of the mothers of members of the company accompanying the troupe wherever it goes, under salary to the management, to look after the welfare of the girls, because of the extreme youth of the majority of them.

BRAINERD OFFERS IDEAL LOCATION

Rev. E. A. Cooke Argues Advantages
Accruing to Hamline University
by Selecting Brainerd

CITY IS CENTRALLY LOCATED

University Would be in Fertile Field and Largest Institution of This Section

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce several evenings ago Rev. E. A. Cooke, who is chairman of a special committee to look into the Hamline College proposition, gave a very comprehensive review of the college situation showing that he had put a great deal of time and thought on this matter.

Since every citizen of Brainerd is interested in bringing Hamline College to this city Mr. Cooke's report will be worth consideration. Below is given in brief the arguments he set forth in favor of moving the school north from the Twin Cities.

There are of course advantages in having the University in large cities, but there are many disadvantages which greatly outweigh these. For instance: Hamline is overshadowed and in constant competition with the greater State University and many Hamline students leave and finish at this larger institution. Then too Hamline loses its individuality in a city so large as St. Paul and Minneapolis. It is not an outstanding feature of those cities. So far as the outside world is concerned, it is swallowed up and lost to view. Take as a comparison Carleton College at Northfield. This school has a wider reputation than Hamline and is known better throughout the state, largely due to the fact that it is the outstanding institution in the town in which it is located. We all know that when Northfield, Minnesota is mentioned we think at once of Carleton College. The association of these two names gives both the town and the school a bigger reputation and a better advertising.

Another point, is that the Twin Cities are not large contributors to the student body of Hamline University. Minneapolis contributes only 20 students a year to this school. St. Paul contributes 88, this showing that the majority which St. Paul maintains over Minneapolis is from families who have moved in from over the state and located there just to educate their children.

By bringing this school to Brainerd our city population would be easily increased by that many and more families moving in for the purpose of sending their children to this college.

A third point worth considering is that many people throughout the country do not want to send their children to the large cities to be educated. They much prefer the environments in a smaller town without the bad influences which the cities throw out to the young mind. Proof of this is shown in the patronage of Carleton College at Northfield.

Now that Hamline is about to move it seems reasonable that its next location should be considered in relation to the population of the state, as well as to the general educational interests, and we should look at least 50 years ahead in placing the school so that it will take care of the situation for an even longer time to come.

If you will consult a map of Minnesota and draw on that map a line due west from Minneapolis, including the counties that you can cross with this line, you will divide the state into 2 important sections. The section south of this line of counties contains every English speaking college and secondary school and academy that is under denominational leadership. The territory north of this line with the exception of Duluth contains not a single school. About one-third of the state's territory lies in the southern section with less than one-half the total state's population. In the northern section there is two-thirds of the state's territory and about 150,000 majority of its population. Should not this fact alone attract a college to our northern section?

An examination of the election returns for the past 20 years reveals the fact that the southern section of the state had a loss of 9% in population and that the northern section had a gain of 11% in population, making a difference of 20% or 1% per year. An increase was made in a section being settled more rapidly now than it has at any time during these past twenty years. This fact ought not be overlooked and inasmuch as Hamline is moving it ought to take in this northern territory without a college and locate in a central point where it could take care of the trend of population for the next one-half century. The first college that moves into this section will be the leading institution for years to come. Not only that but it will contribute immensely to the building up of this section of the country.

Now the question of the college location will of course be a vital one. First, the school should be centrally located. Second, it should be easily accessible and third, it should be so situated as to have attractive surroundings. There are no doubt many cities who will be in the field offering sites to Hamline. If it moves it should move northward. A little in advance of the center of population, but not far enough but what this advance can be taken care of for the next 40 or 50 years.

Brainerd meets all the requirements as set forth above. Our city is well located. It is accessible by railroad from all directions and is located on three state highways. It is on the western edge of the mining industry of Minnesota, lies on the border of a great scenic lake region and in the midst of a section just being developed as an agricultural district.

Brainerd should commend itself to every person who is interested in the location with inducements and advantages superior to those of other cities could offer. Looking at this matter from every view point our city seems to be the logical location for such a school. It remains for our citizens to get together as one man putting our shoulders to the wheel and exerting every effort to bring Hamline University to the town where it belongs—Brainerd.

ELKS INITIATE CLASS MEMBERS

Ritualistic Work Finely Exemplified by Exalted Ruler and Other
Chair Officers

A CLASS OF FORTY APRIL 1

May be Necessary to Engage Gardner
Hall to Hold All Candidates and Lodge Members

A class of candidates was initiated at the Brainerd Elks lodge on Thursday evening and the ritualistic work as exemplified by Exalted Ruler Fred L. Sanborn and other chair officers was finely portrayed and won praise from the candidates, several of whom held membership in other orders.

Preparations were made for the initiation of a class of forty for the first meeting in April, being April 1, when it will be necessary to engage Gardner hall in order to seat class and old members.

In the membership drive in Brainerd's jurisdiction, Edw. Anderson, commander in chief of the drive, has been succeeded by Walter F. Kunitz, who has made a great record in personal solicitation of new members.

Many applications were voted on Thursday night and three ballot boxes were impressed into service to expedite voting.

Officers will be installed at the April 1 meeting. A number of new features will be provided for that meeting which will surprise old members as well as candidates.

St. Cloud lodge No. 516 extended an invitation to Brainerd lodge to attend their initiation ceremonies this evening when 100 will be accepted into the order. W. I. Nolan, noted humorist, will speak and the Elks glee club will sing.

WHISKEY CHEAP IN EARLY DAYS

IN 1846 WHISKEY 13c A QUART

Every General Store Carried Liquor.
Work Shoes Sold for $2.50
Pair, Fine Hat $6

Frank Congdon, farmer near Brainerd, has an old account book of a Pennsylvania man which dates back to the pioneer days when whiskey was a commodity handled in the best of general stores.

In November, 1820, one John Freeman purchased five gallons of whiskey for $5. Twelve pounds of pork cost him 98c. In the various grocery bills shown it is remarkable how much whiskey entered into a household in comparison with salt pork and flour.

On March 12, 1818 the same John Freeman paid $2.50 for a pair of work shoes $6 for a fine hat, 18c for a sidecomb, $2 for a wash board, 12c for a ball of thread.

In February, 1839, one S. Rathbun received 75c a day for "rafting" and $1.50 a day for "running down river".

In 1846 whiskey sold at 13c a quart, two quarts for a quarter.

Olson Lands Good Job

Herman Olson wanted to improve himself and decided he was most fitted for Motor Mechanics by natural inclination. His first move was to come to Fargo, N. D. where he took a course in the Hanson Tractor & Auto School. In a short time a call came in from North Dakota Agricultural College for a graduate who was competent to take a position as instructor. Mr. Olson was sent and was offered $125.00 per month working forenoons only. He accepted and what's more, he made good. The Hanson Tractor & Auto School (Over one-thousand students in 1919-1920) has a splendid equipment including both autos and tractors and also gives special courses in tire vulcanizing, welding, storage battery work etc. A complete description of courses will be sent on request.

FIRE SHOT

Night Policeman Thomas Meade
Flumps Bullet From Revolver
Into Floor of Restaurant

For a time in the early morning hours Friday it appeared as though Brainerd was in the twilight zone of Bill Hart's movies of the west.

Night Policeman Thomas Meade, as related by Chief of Police Charles Varner, said there was loud talking and a racket in the Dairy restaurant near Sixth and Laurel streets and Officer Meade went in and told people there to keep quiet. Somebody, said Varner, picked up a glass to hurl at the officer and Meade fired. The bullet struck the floor near the counter at the east end of the restaurant.

Three or four diners were in the restaurant at 2 o'clock Friday morning when the shooting occurred, and several said they were talking quietly and that there was no trouble of any kind to provoke any shooting.

So far nothing has occurred in municipal court to further air matters.

BRAINERD MODEL LAUNDRY IMPROVED

Electric Contrivances Now Handle
Collar in Wear-Saving Modern Devices Installed

DRY CLEANING IS ENLARGED

Finest and Most Delicate Fabrics
Cleansed and Not a Trace of Gasoline Odor Retained

The Brainerd Model Laundry of which O. J. Bouma is superintendent, has installed new electrical devices for shaping collars in the last stages of laundry art which will do much to save wear of material and prolong life of the collars.

The collar after washing and ironing is taken by a deft girl and slipped into a machine called a seam dampener. This dampens that section of the collar which is to fold over. It is then placed on a shaper which makes the collar fold over and leave space enough through which to slip your tie.

Any man knows that when a collar is shaped and ironed down too tightly that his troubles begin when he clasps in his collar buttons and then attempts to pull through the tie. On a tight collar, something gives way under the old regime. Either the tender little four-in-hand splits its length or the collar tears and the laundry is blamed.

But with these new devices, ample space is shaped and ironed into the fold and tie and collar are saved some terrible wear and tear. After the two processes named above, the girl places the collar in a steam heated tube shaper and the finished article is the result.

Annually the laundry company sends out experts who cover its territory and in a house to house canvass endeavor to find what complaints people may have in regard to laundry work. The machines named were ordered and will obviate much of the trouble hitherto encountered in the collar business.

The dry cleaning department of the laundry is increasing its business. The finest fabrics are handled without depreciation in quality of cloth and when turned over to owner have eliminated any possible odor of gasoline.

Articles to be dry-cleaned first travel through the gasoline washer. Then the extractor removes the gasoline and the clothes are placed in the drying tumbler, which heated by steam removes all odors. The gasoline as used is now piped to a still and after clarification can be used again. So well does the still work that generally the gasoline leaves in purer shape than when it was originally purchased.

COLD STORAGE AFFECTS PRICES

INTERESTING FACTS DISCLOSED BY FEDERAL BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

BUTTER COSTS THE SUBJECT

Figures Are Given Out on the Storage, Withdrawal and Prices of That Food in the United States During Two Seasons.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The federal bureau of statistics has been making further inquiries with respect to the cold storage business. It tells us that the storage season for butter may be said to begin in May and end in April. Storage holdings are increased during May, June, July and August, and hence these months are known as "storing months." Storage holdings are decreased during the months from September to April, inclusive. These months are known as "distributing months." September is sometimes a storing month if the season is late. The largest amount held in storage on the first of any month during a season is known as the "peak load" for the season. About three-fourths of the peak load is stored during June and July; most of the distribution is within the months of October to March, inclusive. About one-fourth of the peak load is usually withdrawn during December.

On May 1, 1917, at the beginning of the 1917-18 season, there were a little over 2,500,000 pounds of butter in storage. During the months of May to October storage holdings showed a net increase of a little over 103,500,000 pounds. The average wholesale price for these months was 39.5 cents. During June and July the net amount stored was almost 77,500,000 pounds. The average wholesale price for these two months was 37.9 cents.

Withdrawal Boosted Prices.

From October 1 to May 1, 1918, there was a net withdrawal from storage of 96,000,000 pounds. The average wholesale price during these months was 45.5 cents. In December there was a net decrease in storage holdings of 30,000,000 pounds. The average wholesale price in December was 48.1 cents. During the storing months of this season, exports of butter totaled a little over 2,000,000 pounds and imports about 419,000 pounds. During the distributing months exports totaled over 14,500,000 pounds and imports almost 1,500,000.

By proclamation of July 9, 1917, the export of butter was prohibited except by virtue of a special license. Butter was included in the presidential license proclamations of October 8, 1917, and January 10, 1918. It was in the list of restricted imports April 22, 1918. During the period from May, 1917, to April, 1918, the average differential between wholesale and retail prices was 5 cents.

On May 1, 1918, at the beginning of the 1918-19 season, there were a little over 10,000,000 pounds in storage. During the months from May until September storage holdings showed a net increase of slightly over 91,000,000 pounds. The total production from May until September was 372,500,000 pounds. The average wholesale price for these months was 42.9 cents. During June and July the net increase in storage holdings was 76,000,000 pounds. The total production for these two months was approximately 202,000,000 pounds. The average wholesale price for these two months was 42.6 cents. The movement into storage of such a large proportion of the amount produced prevented a glutted market and a consequent decline in price. From September until May, 1919, there was a net withdrawal from storage of 92,000,000 pounds. The average wholesale price for these months was 58.7 cents. During December there was a net withdrawal of a little more than 20,500,000 pounds. The average wholesale price in December was 67 cents.

Fluctuations During Winter.

In December the wholesale price advanced another 6 cents and the retail price 7 cents, although production was practically the same as in November, and there was a net decrease of 20,000,000 pounds in the amount in storage. During December, however, 3,000,000 pounds were exported.

The wholesale price for January, 1919, was 62 cents; for February, 49 cents, and for March, 60 cents. The amount produced in February was almost 7,000,000 pounds less than in January. During February, however, there was a net decrease in cold storage holdings of 12,500,000 pounds, which was greater by 5,000,000 than the net decrease during January. The wholesale price in April was 62 cents. During this month storage holdings showed a net decrease of 2,000,000 pounds, but over 8,000,000 pounds were exported. During the season 1918-19 the average differential between the wholesale and retail price was 5 cents, approximately the same as for the 1917-18 season.

The 1919-20 season will not be completed until May 1. On May 1, 1919, at the beginning of the season, there were approximately 9,500,000 pounds in storage. During May, June and July, 1919, production increased. From May until August there was a great decrease in the amount exported.

Woman Withdraws as Candidate for Delegate

(By United Press)

Mankato, Minn., March 19.—J. M. Tompkin of Mankato and H. E. Nichols, county attorney of Jackson, were practically certain of being elected as delegates to the national republican convention in the second district this afternoon as a result of the withdrawal of Mrs. D. L. Moore.

Better to be On the Safe Side

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them, 10c and 25c.

"HARD SKIN" AND FOOT CALLUSES

Magic! Peel them off without pain or soreness

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the toughened calluses or "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift those painful spots right off with fingers. Corns also!

When you peel off corns or calluses with Freezone the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never sore, tender or even irritated. Try Freezone sure!

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

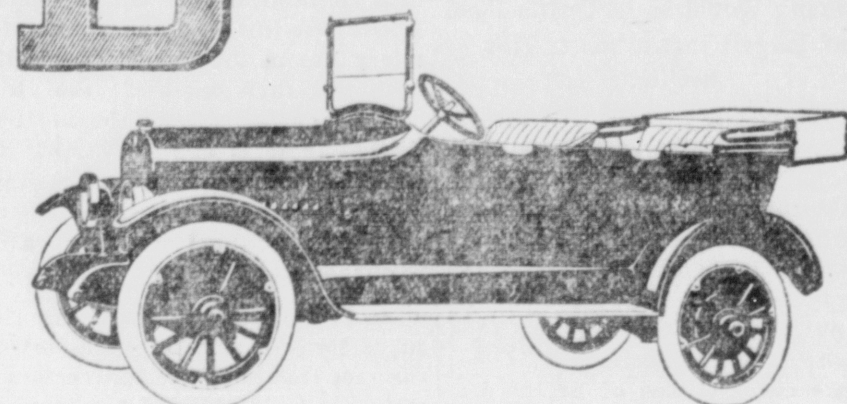

Nobody can tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Quality Goes Clear Through

No matter how impressed you may be with your Dort when you purchase it you have a far higher opinion of the car six months or a year later.

It is when you look back over the daily record of its service for a long period that you completely appreciate the value of your investment.

The finest qualities of the Dort reveal themselves only in actual service. It maintains its even performance and riding comfort.

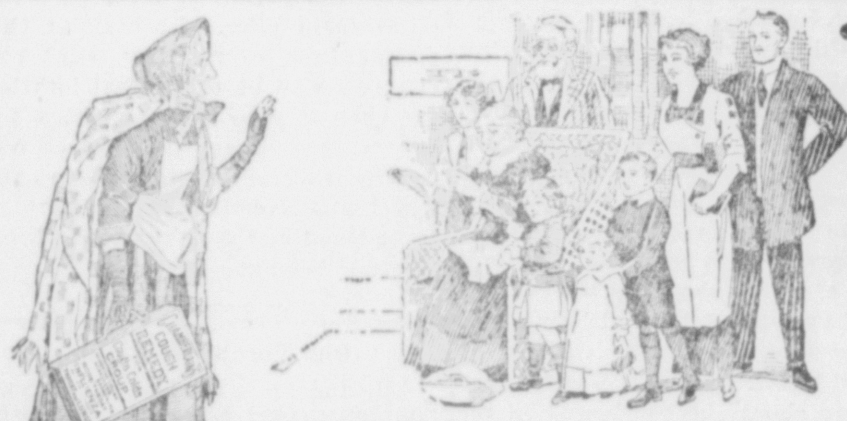

It registers the same high mileage per gallon of gasoline and quart of oil month after month.

It stays "tuned up" and sweet running. That is why the Dort stands so well with its owners.

"Granny" Chamberlain "A good cough remedy is one that can be depended upon to cure coughs. Not one that cures some particular cough, but coughs in general.

It must be a cough remedy that can be relied upon for all the different coughs that are so prevalent. While the causes of all coughs are primarily the same, yet the condition of the patient is what makes the difference in the nature of the cough itself. Coughs of healthy persons are easier to cure than the coughs of invalids. The powerful convulsive cough of a large man is harder to cure than the cough of a baby. If you get a remedy that will cure a large man's cough and yet not be too powerful for the baby, you have a good cough remedy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is just this kind of remedy. It is good for any member of the family. It relieves coughs of all kinds. It is the product of much thought and study to produce an ideal cough remedy. It is composed of things which cure easily and soothingly without harming the most delicate tissues of the throat. It acts as easily and safely on the young as on the old, and is the ideal remedy for coughs, colds, croup, influenza, whooping cough and bronchitis."

Yours for Health — "Granny" Chamberlain.
